

We give IT a face.

Sycor – Your Veeva Partner Full Service for Multichannel CRM from Experts!

Founded in 1996, Sycor has specialized in multichannel CRM services for the Life Sciences Industry and has gained tangible expertise in over 100 CRM projects. With our international team of CRM experts we support successfully national and international companies by enabling new processes and technologies in sales and marketing.

Consulting

We use proven analysis methods to challenge existing processes and identify potential for improvement. With hands-on expertise we coordinate all tasks and activities to implement your multichannel roadmap. We staff your team with experienced and field-tested Project Management and Project Management Office (PMO) professionals, as well as experts for Change Management.

Training

We believe that knowledge transfer is successful only when learning approaches are in line with the company's culture and processes. Therefore we develop customer-specific training strategies for multichannel CRM rollouts including role-based concepts, live and web training in 15+ languages and utilization of all learning channels. Sycor Training is proven to improve sales force effectiveness by increasing user adoption of the CRM system.

Business Information Service

We provide multilingual 1st and 2nd level support (service desk and business application support). With our Veeva certified agents and consultants we handle service requests, incident, problem and change management for multichannel CRM. Besides, we give advice and support for Veeva Release Management and Data Management.

What sets us apart
