Simbec-Orion Modernizing Quality and Compliance with Veeva Vault Quality Suite

Global CRO to streamline content management and training qualifications for greater efficiency and transparency

BARCELONA, Spain — 18 May 2022 — Veeva Systems (NYSE: VEEV) today announced that Simbec-Orion, a full-service contract research organization (CRO), is using Veeva Vault QualityDocs and Veeva Vault Training to simplify document management and compliance training across quality assurance (QA). By leveraging Veeva Vault Quality Suite applications on a single platform, Simbec-Orion will improve visibility into quality documentation and training requirements to ensure teams are up to date on the latest industry standards. With this unified approach, the company can gain high-quality data, drive faster execution, and maintain compliance for its sponsors.

"We are continually advancing our digital framework to deliver more efficiencies to our clients," said Jim Kendall, chief information officer at Simbec-Orion. "Adding Veeva Vault Quality Suite applications advances our controlled document and training management, delivering specific process improvements, such as policy, SOP, and WI authoring and essential reading lists."

Simbec-Orion offers clinical trial management services in over 30 countries, specializing in clinical pharmacology, oncology, and rare diseases. The addition of Vault QualityDocs and Vault Training builds on the company's success with Veeva Vault Clinical Suite and advances their digital transformation. Now Simbec-Orion will have modern systems to enhance quality processes, facilitate training, and ensure compliance.

"Veeva Vault QualityDocs and Veeva Vault Training empower our teams with role-based access so they can easily see relationships between processes to drive quality actions and workflows," said Alison Hughes, head, business enablement, Simbec-Orion. "Improving and simplifying procedures like these makes us faster and more efficient while remaining compliant."

"Simbec-Orion is committed to driving efficiency and speed through digital execution and we're proud to support their efforts with advanced quality systems," said Soffa Lange, director, strategy, Veeva Vault Quality and manufacturing. "Veeva Vault Quality Suite applications will help strengthen their QA processes and drive quality and oversight across their operations."
