

Veeva OpenData

Power Commercial Agility with High-Quality Reference Data

Having a solid customer master data foundation is crucial for commercial success, yet many master data projects fail due to poor data quality, broken integrations, and complex data management.

Veeva OpenData powers commercial agility with accurate, comprehensive, and integrated customer reference data. With quick and easy access to high-quality data directly in Vault CRM, field teams boost productivity and enhance HCP engagements, while commercial ops and data teams simplify operations by unifying data sources and software.

Why Veeva OpenData

- Better quality. Effortlessly maintain high-quality data with fast DCRs and proactive updates based on hundreds of authoritative sources.
- More comprehensive. Do more with one data source for customer demographics, compliance, affiliations, and email addresses that can be used throughout the organization.
- Fully integrated. Deliver the best possible user experience with seamless access to reference data in Vault CRM and integration with all Veeva products.
